Edward and Mary Grant. The inspiration for this book stemmed from dealing with their care and final estate after they became ill and then passed away. It brought to light how difficult the process is and how many people are unprepared and do not know where to turn for help or what information is needed to be compiled in order to have clear, precise and informed plan in place if something were to happen. These decisions should be made long before the emotions of dealing with life's difficult moments come in to focus. This book is about changing the world, being a rebel and having a go. It's about how we recognise the need for shifts and summon the courage to make those changes, starting at the smallest level and eventually revolutionising the very way we lead our teams, our companies and our world. I've often had people, in work and in life, tell me it seemed I was trying to change the world. I would get ahead of them and, sometimes, myself with wild ideas, and they'd encourage me to slow down, break it down so they could understand where my brain was headed. This would frustrate me when I was younger, but not so much now. Now I'm proud to think big -- and changing the world seems a great place to start. Hence the title for this book. As one of Australia's leading female technologists, I've spent my career looking to the future. I've helped more than 40 companies adjust to the information revolution of the last 20 years. I've supported business leaders looking for ways to survive the turmoil of the digital age and position their companies for growth and prosperity, with an ever-watchful eye toward what's next. Along the way, I've learned a little something about leadership, about what society needs to achieve to be, not only successful, but sustainable. It's clear to me now, as reports about climate change, geopolitical turmoil and global pandemic fill our daily news feeds, that the future is no longer a given. Change at all levels must happen to ensure we even have a tomorrow, let alone the bright one we have the potential to create if we combine good leadership with the amazing technologies in development right now. It's my hope that the insights I provide here, based on my personal experiences and many years working in the field, will help prepare and inspire you to face the challenges the present demands. Now more than ever, we need to lead radically, think differently and bring together diverse teams of people with a range of personalities and perspectives to make real change. Awaken alternate realities, and there will be no past or future unseen... the real secret to life and death. Are you sure you are ready for it? With eyes wide shut, we wonder the Earth like shadows, like a reflection, unaware of our existence. We live in the most complex matrix of our own thoughts. Non of this exists, nothing and everything at the same time. We are the real walking dead. An interactive masterpiece that triggers the power of the subconscious mind. No matter where we are in our journeys through life, all of us will inevitably encounter something about ourselves a thought, a belief, or a behavior that needs to change. Dr. Michael E. Frisina relies on his experience as a pastor, teacher, and leadership expert to share key truths from the Holy Bible and practical tools that will empower anyone seeking change to part ways with old habits, thoughts, and emotions and attain a life of spiritual transformation. Within biblical and guiding principles that frame the foundation for creating and sustaining an abundant life in Jesus Christ, Dr. Frisina teaches others how to: rely on a physical connection that creates inner peace and inspired thinking; control thoughts to manage behavior choices; change beliefs and behavior to change circumstances and outcomes; manage emotions to obey the command to be anxious for nothing; improve communication and create emotional connections with others; and develop and sustain highly effective relationships with others, God, and yourself. Are You Ready to Change? offers guidance, tools, and principles that teach how to realize self-awareness, break old habits, and use biblical models to embark on a personal transformational journey into the character, image, and likeness of Jesus Christ. Are you ready for the next level of powerlifting? When it comes to taking things to the next level, that level is competing. If you thought powerlifting was a new world, competing is another level altogether. With the many different classes, rules, meets, it can be pretty confusing on how one goes about getting to their first competition and crushing it. This book pulls back the curtains and shows you exactly what you need to know to not only confidently show up to your first meet, but also how to crush your first meet. When you are done reading this book your only answer to "Are You Ready To Compete", will be YES! Piggie can't wait to go and play in the sunshine. But will a rainy day ruin all the fun? Told entirely in speech bubbles with a repetitive use of familiar phrases, this original book encourages children who are just learning to read. This book is a reminder to both believers and unbelievers. Believe it or not. This world will soon come to an end. Is this generation ready to face Jesus Christ? And what is ahead of all mankind? I know many people don't want to be bothered with this truth. There is a real life after death for both going to heaven for living for Jesus Christ and the rest finding themselves in hell for rejecting Christ, but there is still hope for you if you are alive and reading this book, for God still loves this world. He has extended his grace period for those who are still in the valley of decision to make up their mind today, for tomorrow may be too late. Heaven is a place to begin a new life after death, so get ready. Do you think you need to have the gift of evangelism to share the Gospel? Many Christians love to do different ministries.
